The encyclopedia of the newspaper industry.

The international creation of typefaces after 1950 was decisively influenced by the Swiss type designer Adrian Frutiger. His Univers typeface and the machine-readable font OCR-B, which was adopted as an ISO standard, are milestones, as is his type for the Paris airports, which set new standards for signage types and evolved into the Frutiger typeface. With his corporate types, he helped to define the public profiles of companies such as the Japanese Shiseido line of cosmetics. In all he created some fifty types, including Ondine, Méridien, Avenir, and Vectora. Based on conversations with Frutiger himself and on extensive research in France, England, Germany, and Switzerland, this publication provides a highly detailed and accurate account of the type designer's artistic development. For the first time, all of his types – from the design phase to the marketing stage –

No more expensive training courses; no more fumbling with video cassettes. With Training on CD, you can watch hundreds of narrated live-action demonstrations by an experienced Macintosh instructor, right on your own computer. Each CD provides three to six hours of narrated instruction, divided into modules lasting one to seven minutes. The modules range from basic operations to advanced case studies. Using Training on CD is easy: You can instantly jump into, out of, forward, or backward in any module. As you complete the modules, the program keeps track of your progress. In addition, each Training on CD provides a command reference and a hyperlinked index, allowing you to jump from an index directly into a
